

VALVE

The valve can be opened and locked by pulling it out and rotating it to the side. In order to close it, you do the same but in reverse. The rubber band on the device provides the closing force, which prevents the valve unintentionally opening and also allows for it to be shut quickly.